

VetSurg View Newsletter

It has been a challenging few years for the veterinary community as animal hospitals have been faced with a variety of new challenges throughout the COVID-19 pandemic. As our community and the veterinary profession begins to transition to a post-pandemic world, the VetSurg team is excited to welcome back in-person consultations. VetSurg will continue to keep public health, the safety of our hospital personnel and clients a top priority. We are excited to join our general practice and specialty care community in transitioning to the next chapter of veterinary care!

Dr. Campbell, Dr. Sapora, Dr. Webb and Dr. Holsworth

Over the past year, VetSurg has welcomed the addition of two new board-certified small animal veterinary surgeons, Dr. Rebecca Webb BVSc, MS, MANZCVS, DACVS-SA and Dr. Joe Sapora DVM, MS DACVS-SA. Dr. Sapora successfully passed the American College Of Veterinary Surgeon's board examination this year, becoming the newest Diplomate to join the VetSurg team. We are excited to have four board-certified veterinary surgeons to provide advanced veterinary care to the Ventura, Santa Barbara and San Luis Obispo counties.

VetSurg Is Growing!

VetSurg is currently operating out of a 4,800 square foot hospital. We are excited to announce construction is underway of a new 13,000 square foot facility on Market Street in Ventura. This larger facility will include four state-of-the-art Operating Rooms, advanced imaging and overnight care, allowing us to make an even larger impact for the pets in the Tri-County area.
